

Dash Parkour Sign

The sign presents the basic techniques of parkour based on the equipment of the respective parkour spot. The sign's graphics are indicative, enticing the user to find the equipment that enables each technique in its own parkour area. All the QR codes will open instructive videos, where you can find several variations of each technique, tips for developing the movement, and ways to combine techniques with each other. The information required by the standard can be added to the sign, such as the emergency number, address information and information of the site administrator. The sign is available painted in gray RAL9022 or hot-dip galvanized.
