

With the play telescope, you can see into the distance! With a small addition such as the play telescope, the play equipment gets many more opportunities for role-playing. With role-play, children get a natural chance to practice experiencing and expressing emotions, through the roles they take on.

Metal

