The US175585 product complies with the ASTM Standard. The low bottom step and gentle angle of the stairs invite even a one-year-old toddler to climb the stairs. The window opening at the top of the hut is framed with a pretty leaf design, and the slide back down guarantees perfect fun. One of the two walls is a fence wall, and the full-height boarded wall has a window so that kids can be easily supervised at all times. The full-height wall also serves as a fun and easily supervised element for play on ground level. The steeply pitched roof and curved roof plane are influenced by mediaeval Scandinavian designs, scaled down to suit children. The window frame adds a welcoming and bright accent to the design.
